

Grab a hold of your desire to make it happen! A road trip from Florida to Montana last summer lead to Frannie's first fish on a fly. She became the first female to receive the Boy Scouts of America fly fishing badge. I'm not sure who was more excited - Frannie, her mother Susan or Chloe who guided Frannie to her fish. But moments like these make memories. And it's these memories that we start thinking about this time of year.

Springtime is nearing and the natives are restless! The whole wide world is so excited to be outside and safe. Fly fishing in particular has had a huge growth spurt - the desire to be in nature having fun is directing the growth. In a time when planning a fishing trip now requires a few more things to make it happen, we can still make it happen. Whatever your comfort level might be - and since the norm has been challenged, we have needed to search for our comfort level - there is a piece of water waiting for you to explore.

And me too! Just because I have been guiding for thirty years doesn't mean that I have all of this figured out. My casts look terrible to me when I don't fish enough - and seeing that recently is enough to tell me I need to get out there! I'm so excited to see you soon on the salt flats of Ambergris Caye, Belize or on the most amazing rivers in the West this summer. Truly blessed.

—Thank you! L-A

Our Reel Women Fly Fishing Adventures Guide school in Ennis, Montana is just west of Bozeman, MT on the Madison River. Your participation will provide a solid platform for expanding your fly fishing life. We have one spot left!

We'll spend the first day discussing the following topics: successful professional guide outfitter relationships, angler/guide communications strategies, entomology, guide etiquette, wade fishing strategies, river rescue and safety workshops, how to back up a trailer and of course rowing the drift boat! The next two days are spent rowing and fishing; two ladies with a guide in each boat.
